Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy sets out Zentry Forced-Entry Security Solutions (“The Company”) policies regarding its collection and use of information relating to the Zentry Advanced Security Solutions Website. Visitors (“Visitors”) or Purchasers (“Purchasers”) to the website provide personal information when ordering items online or requesting further information.

The Company collects, maintains, and processes information provided by Visitor requests and orders placed by Purchasers on the website. The Company will not sell any of the information that it obtains to third parties for any purpose nor allow the use of this material by third parties. However, in the event of a sale of the Company, information provided by or collected by the Company about Visitors or Purchasers may be sold, assigned, or transferred to the new buyer of the Company.

The Company reserves the right to use the information to send details about future offers and the Company at its own discretion may record and collect information about how visitors use the Website.

The company does not knowingly solicit or collect data from children, and does not knowingly market to children online without express parental consent or notification. The Company recognize that protecting children's identities and online privacy is important and that responsibility rests with the Company and with parents. If you believe your child has provided personally identifiable information to us, please contact us so we can allow you the opportunity to review and delete such information.

Visitors and Purchasers may provide personal information to the Company on or through the Website. The Company will allow reasonable access to, and review of, such information, where such information is readily available, upon proper verification of the person seeking such access.

The company may make information concerning the website, and the uses thereof, available to law enforcement personnel and agencies when requested to do so or as required by law. The company may also disclose such information upon a good faith belief that it is required to do so, in order to protect its property or in furtherance to an investigation regarding a breach of the Terms of Use.

By using or providing information to the Website, visitors and Purchasers understand and consent to the collection, processing and use of such information in Ireland, UK, United States, Canada and other countries and territories for the purposes set forth in this Policy.

The company takes seriously the security of information related to the use of the Website and endeavours to protect visitor and Purchasers information in the following ways;

- Protects your data against unauthorised use.
- Follows strict security procedures in the storage and disclosure of information, which Visitors have given to us, to prevent unauthorised access

The Company may update this Policy at any time by posting the amended Policy on the Website. The revised or amended Policy shall automatically be effective.

Visitors and Purchasers wishing to communicate with the Company with questions, comments or complaints about this Policy, or the Website, should forward such communication to; info@Zentry3.com

The Company is committed to protecting your privacy and uses information it collects on the site to make shopping at Zentry Forced-Entry Security Solutions possible and to enhance your overall shopping experience. The company welcomes your questions and comments by email about any topic, including Data Protection and your privacy.

Refunds Policy

The Company is here to help and is committed to providing the best possible service to our customers. However, recognises that sometimes things can go wrong. If you are not entirely satisfied with the service you have received, email us on info@zentry3.com.
